

IGNITE FILMS

CLASSICS FOR THE FUTURE

INCREDIBLE MELTING MAN, THE

1978 / 86:00 / Color / SciFi/ Horror

Director: William Sachs

Starring: Alex Rebar, Burr DeBenning, Myron Healey

SYNOPSIS:

Col. Steven West, after an incredible, history-making space flight to Saturn, returns and is hospitalized with a baffling ailment apparently contracted during his visit to the heretofore untouched planet. Some unknown disease, or bacterial infection, is causing his flesh to actually melt.

His doctors and friends-including his commanding officer are further frustrated and confounded when Col. West escapes from the hospital and conceals himself in a wooded area surrounding the hospital and the small community in which it is located. Later, when the town is suddenly beset with a series of violent deaths, victims are discovered with parts of their bodies missing seemingly consumed by a wild animal. West's doctor puts two and two together and connects his patient with the heinous crimes. Col. West needs to feed on other humans to slow the rapid deterioration of his own flesh!